Foreign Exchange

Foreign Exchange Students

Andreas Sjostrand is a seventeen-year-old junior who is visiting Northwest from Sweden. His hometown is Goteborg, which is where the 1996 Track and Field World Championships were held.

Andreas has two brothers, Martin and Emanuel. Last year, Martin was a foreign exchange student in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Although this year will not count toward Andreas's credits in Sweden, he said that he is gaining valuable experience in American culture and in learning the English language. He will graduate in the year 2000 from Aranas Gyrnnasiet, his high school in Sweden.

When asked to compare Northwest with schools in Sweden, Andreas said that U.S. schools seem to be much more strict. Swedish students can leave whenever they want. There are no study halls. Students may come and go as they please. Also, there is always free food available to Swedish students Andreas likes the school spirit at Northwest. There are no organized school sports in Sweden, so there is not much school spirit there.

During his experience at Northwest, Andreas is staying with the Stahl family of Canal Fulton. The Stahls took Andreas to see Niagara Falls and other sights that will be memorable for Andreas. Although Andreas misses his family and friends back in Sweden, he is enjoying his visit to the U.S.

Kate Kostyuk comes to Northwest from Russia. Her home city is St. Petersburg, which is Russia's cultural center and second largest city. Kate is staying with the Lovas family during her visit in the U.S. She has left behind an older sister, Olga, in Russia.

Russian schools are much different from those in the U.S., according to Kate. She said that all age levels are in one building. Students have no lockers in Russia; they must carry everything with them. Books are much smaller in Russia. The grading system is also quite different in Russia. There are no grading periods. There is only one final exam upon which the grade for the entire class is based. Also, all students must take the same subjects; there are no choices. Russian schools do not have the sports and clubs that we have in the U.S. One thing that Kate misses about Russian schools is the freedom that students have during the school days. Students may have free time between their classes to go and do what they please. If a student misses class in Russia, no one checks to see where they are. It is up to each student to make sure they are in class.

Kate also pointed out that Russia is much more lenient on their young people than we are in the U.S. There are no restrictions due to age in Russia. Kate said that U.S. teens seem to have friends who are the same age as they are, whereas in Russia, she has close friends of all ages.

The Varsity Girls Soccer Team had a very productive year. Liza Blackledge was an excellent and hard-working goalie. Also known as Psyco, she motivated the team by her spirited war cry. Although the team didn't have as many wins as they would've liked, they worked hard and improved their skills for the upcoming year. The awards for the season were as the following: Best Defensive Player-Mandy Booher; Best Offensive Player-Wendy Dauterman; MVP-Liza Blackledge; Santos Award-Amanda Hubany; Most improved-Talie Graber; Coach's Award-Sarah Herren. Head Coach Neal Allen helped prepare for the tough season.

When The Bells Toll

When God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to call back to His fold a human soul, And when the earthly remains of one beloved must be laid to eternal sleep,

Then it becomes the sacred duty

of our profession to assist the bereaved living in this,
the last task of their love for the departed.

In carrying out this sacred duty we will do our part.

With sympathy

With dignity

With reverence
